THE telegraph brings us a thrilling chapter of recent railroad accidents—one of them more than usually horrible. There were about two hundred persons on the train when the accident occurred, and of this number it is known that twelve are killed and about fifty wounded.

THE DRUGGISTS' CONVENTION.

The next annual meeting of the American Pharmaceutical association is to be held in Atlanta, beginning on the third day of next September. The meeting of this year was held in Toronto, Canada. There are few stronger organizations in the country than the one that is to meet here next year. Its annual meetings are attended by delegates from the local organizations that exist in nearly every city of this country and Canada. The coming of this large representative body is another bit of evidence to prove the centrality of Atlanta. Not only is the Gate City the convenient focus of Georgia, but it is rapidly becoming so for all the south on this side of the Mississippi. Sooner or later every general body comes to it, because it is central, healthy, accessible and provided with hotels that can accommodate all comers. The October number of the Druggists' Circular and Chemical Gazette, after referring to the meeting of 1876 in Atlanta, says:

> No place in the south is more delightfully situated for conventions or conclaves than this home-like city accessible by water via New York, Charleston or Savannah, and by several different lines of railroad. The city lies on very high ground, and is not only one of the coolest, but the most salubrious locations in the

It may seem early to us south, but by that it is not as uncomfortable there ember as in many cities in the middle

It is to be hoped that all who can possido so will endeavor to "go south" at the ing and also that the southern pharmaceuts will make it a point to be there.

Fuller particulars of the coming meet ons be found in our local columns. Atlanta will "make it a point" to extend to all the pharmaceutists a warm southern welcome. We want to see a booming convention from all parts of the continent.

THE EXPOSITION OF ATLANTA

The citizens of Atlanta are continually asserting that the proposition of Atlanta is not before the people. We have no action of the city council on the subject, and also the action of the convention authorizing the city of Atlanta to make the offer. There is nothing in the way. If the capitol is located at Atlanta, it will cost the state nothing, but she can sell the two capitols she now has, and put the money in the treasury. If it is carried to Milledgeville, it will cost over one hundred thousand dollars to fix up the old building and pay for the removal—besides that, the state will lose the building in this city, as it reverts if the capital is removed. It is not only the interest of the tax payer to keep the capital at Atlanta, but it is far more convenient and desirable to every citizen of the state, except those who are personally interested in its removal.

Here is what Atlanta proposes to do:

CITY CLERK'S OFFICE,
ATLANTA, September 19, 1877.

At a called meeting of the mayor and council of the city of Atlanta, the following resolution was unanimously adopted, and the same was unanimously concurred in by the aldermanic board—viz:

Whereas, The enemies of Atlanta are representing that Atlanta's proposition to the convention was not made in good faith; and,

Whereas, It was made in the utmost good faith,

Resolved, That we do hereby repeat the same and now declare that if Atlanta is selected as the capital of the state by the people in December next, the city of Atlanta will convey to the state of Georgia any ten acres of land in or near the city of Atlanta now unoccupied, or the square in the heart of said city, known as the city hall lot, containing five acres of land, and bounded by a street on every side, on which to locate and build a capitol for the state.

Resolved further, That the city of Atlanta will build for the state of Georgia, on the location selected, a capitol building as good as the old capitol building in Milledgeville.

Resolved further, That a copy of this action signed by the mayor and certified to by the clerk of council under the seal of his office, shall be deposited with the governor of this state and be published for the information of the people.

N. L. ANGIER,
Mayor.

I certify that the above is a true and correct copy from the minutes of the mayor and council of the city of Atlanta, Georgia.

FRANK P. RYAN,
City Clerk.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
ATLANTA, GA., September 19, 1877.

I hereby certify that the original of which the foregoing is a copy, signed by the mayor and city clerk, and having the corporate seal attached, has been this day deposited in the executive office and placed on file.

POLITICAL.

GRANT is coming across the horizon of 1880 so darkly as to make some remarks on Cæsarism.—Philadelphia Times, ind.

ALREADY there are signs of the next presidential campaign. Several men at Yonkers have organized a Mrs. Tilton anti-temperance society.—New York Herald, ind.

GEORGE WILLIAM CURTIS has been known longer, better and more widely to the people of this country than Roscoe Conkling can ever hope to be.—Springfield Republican, rep.

THEY are about to stretch one of Alexander H Stephens' sentences on the poles from Washington to Atlanta to see if it won't answer the purpose of a telephone.—Burlington Hawkeye, rep.

SOME of the republicans—the highest cabinet officer of a republican president—might be in better business than energizing Andrew Johnson, who votes the civil rights bill, the bill giving negroes the right to vote in the district of Columbia, and the income motion bill.—Boston Transcript, rep.

THERE is nothing equivocal about the resolutions adopted by the Minnesota republican convention. They indorse the administration's course so heartily as to be a reputation for Massachusetts and Maryland. It is only the states filled with sore heads where dissension arises.—Buffalo Express, rep.

SO COMPLETELY shattered is the republican organization that even Massachusetts is regarded as "safe" democratic, and Ohio is gone as sure as fate, and if Pennsylvania does not follow suit it will only be because the democrats have pulled in cute on themselves and the country.—Philadelphia Evening Chronicle, dem.

IT IS a very mockery of justice to forget the treason of Key and the leaders of Wade Hampton, because they applaud the valley and then denounce men like Senator Conkling, who have never ceased to be patriots, because they cannot conscientiously endorse a policy which they believe to be diametrically opposed to the best interests of the country and the dictates of humanity.—Burlington Hawkeye, rep.

If the Mexicans allowed the present lawlessness upon their side of the border to continue much longer, they should be forcibly reminded of the events of 1846 and '47, and the name of Zachary Taylor. The remedy tried then healed it for a time, and breech loaders in the hands of Americans would be even more effective now than the muzzle loaders were then.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat, rep.

THE ex-president loses nothing in popularity, as time passes, and his simple dignity influences the people more and more. Whether Senator Conkling favors or not, it is generally among the probabilities that the people will demand his nomination. If nominated his election can be assured by the greatest possible majority ever given any candidate.—Pittsburgh Commercial Gazette, rep.

THEY have the news in Indianapolis that Mr. Hendricks sailed for New York from Liverpool on Saturday last, and is expected to reach here on Sunday. Perhaps it is not the case, but it looks as if he were trying to dodge the ceremony of reception or else. Nobody here is permitted to know when he is expected, and the time of his arrival has been announced incorrectly several times. Mr. Tremmany will soon convince him if he gets a chance that because it loves him more, but because it loves Tilden less.—New York Tribune, rep.

THE drift of opinion is in the right direction; restore silver to its old place as a legal tender for all regular debts and dues. That will stop not only contraction, but the threat of contraction, which is almost as baneful as the actual contraction itself, and every thing will spring into renewed life and activity. Business will revive, the wheels of industry will whirl as it is applied, and the heart of labor be made glad. Money now draws interest in addition of large increase from resumption. But hope being gone, will come forth and seek investment. New enterprises will be undertaken, and confidence be generally restored. That is what the Ohio democracy are now fighting for, and their success is certain.—Cincinnati Enquirer, dem.

MR. CONKLING times have cherished over-confidence in the convention. The friends of Conkling at Utica were warned by the action of the convention at Saratoga, and the form in the latter was the result of the caucus of the delegates. Mr. Conkling's friends have been warned by the action of the convention at Utica

The Atlanta Daily Constitution

SATURDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 6

GEORGIA'S NEW CONSTITUTION.
In Pamphlet form. Price, Five Cents; Counties or Six Cents by mail CONSTITUTION PUB. CO.

THE stenographic report of the convention proceedings, giving a full report of all the debates on questions before the late constitutional convention, made by Samuel W. Small, for THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION, is now ready for sale. Price $2. It contains over five hundred pages of closely printed matter. Send amount to Constitution publishing company, Atlanta, Ga., and the book will be forwarded to any address by mail.

THE officials of the new Virginia revenue service are engaged in taking the state of the liquor registers. Every city in the state is now supplied with the registers except Staunton, and she soon will be. The figures thus far made are said to be highly encouraging to the friends of the law. The largest saloon in Richmond will pay about $1,700 a year. We will soon know how many drinks the Virginians get outside of in the course of a month, always provided there is a thorough ringing of the little bells in the registers.

THE policy of distant conquest is well illustrated in India, where fully a million of human beings have starved to death. In Madras and Bombay alone 1,053,000 are employed upon work that the government has provided for the purpose of permitting starving persons to earn bread. Besides [illegible],000 are receiving [illegible] and yet the famine is not relieved.

THE NEW YORK DEMOCRATS.

The republican papers predicted a bitter factional struggle as soon as the democratic convention was assembled. They had arranged among themselves that there should be a desperate row between what they were pleased to call the Tilden and anti-Tilden factions, between the outs and ins, the new men and the old men. In all this they were disappointed. The wrangling and splitting are all on their side of the house, and on their side they will remain during the campaign. The quarrels of the New York republicans are in fact equalled in degree by the harmony that prevails among the New York democrats.

From the very beginning of the convention, the predictions of the opposition papers were falsified. The temporary chairman, Mr. Hill, supported the old ticket, while the permanent chairman, Mr. Clarkson N. Potter, favored a new ticket. The ticket as nominated includes the name of Comptroller General Olcott, while the rest are new men. This, however, is no indication of either a Tilden or an anti-Tilden triumph, because the ticket is about equally composed of friends and opponents of New York's "favorite son." Moderation and good sense and good feeling prevailed throughout the deliberations of the convention, and there was no "skirmish in anticipation of the battle for the democratic nomination in 1880."

The ticket is made up of able and popular men; the platform is unexceptionable in the eyes of New York democrats, and there seems to be no reason why they should not achieve a sweeping triumph over their divided and discomforted opponents. There is much at stake, and all depends upon the election of a democratic legislature. The executive branch of the government is in democratic hands, and the legislature would be but for the infamous apportionment of the state. A democratic legislature would insure a just apportionment, which, in turn, would insure a democratic United States senator in Mr. Conkling's place, and good legislation generally. As the state is now apportioned, the democrats must roll up nearly fifty thousand majority in order to carry the legislature. We believe they can do as much this fall. The enemy is rent into factions that hate each other most cordially, while the democracy are hopeful and harmonious, and their ticket all that the masses of the party desire.

OVERTAKING A SLANDER.

In view of the fact that the opponents of Atlanta persist in asserting that this city acted in bad faith with respect to the lease of the present capitol building and its subsequent purchase by the state we reproduce the majority report of the convention committee on the location of the [illegible]

These gentlemen were fully cognizant of the charges that had been made against the good faith of this city, and they were therefore more than usually careful in their investigation. They examined the record and every document bearing upon the case, and had there been any truth in the charge made against our city, they could not have failed to discover it. What is their decision? "It gives us pleasure here to state what we had heretofore doubted, that in all things, as far as we can ascertain, after a careful investigation, that the city authorities have not only paid all that they have ever agreed to pay toward the capitol, but that they have taken up, in addition thereto, which they still hold, the mortgage, judgment and fi fa previously referred to."

But this is not all. They continue: "That the state has been greatly wronged in the purchase of the capitol we do not doubt, but that the fault is attributable to the city authorities of Atlanta we have no reason to believe." Notwithstanding these plain statements the slander is still industriously circulated that Atlanta has acted in bad faith. We ask every editor in the state who is desirous of seeing justice done to lay this report, or at least a fair synopsis thereof, before his readers. Fair play is all Atlanta asks.

THE FEVER AT PORT ROYAL.

The Augusta Chronicle of yesterday states that the prevailing disease at Port Royal is "undoubted yellow fever." On Tuesday night a case of black vomit occurred, and the patient died. Out of 231 people residing in the place—94 whites and 137 colored—26 are sick with the fever, all of whom are white people except six.

Beaufort and Augusta are maintaining a rigid quarantine against the infected town. No cars are run into or out of the place, but an engine goes in every day on the Port Royal railroad, thus enabling the people of Augusta and all others who are so disposed to send supplies to the sufferers. No appeal has been made for help from beyond Augusta, and, on account of the small number in the place, none will perhaps be made.

The disease at Fernandina was imported and we presume the outbreak at Port Royal can be traced to a similar origin. Such little towns are generally in a horrible hygenic condition, and any importation of the scourge is almost sure to take root and spread rapidly. The proximity of the south Atlantic coast to Havana is doubtless the reason of the almost yearly prevalence of the fever at one point or the other. The epidemic of the last few years should teach all exposed towns that cleanliness is the surest safeguard.

AN EFFICIENT POSTMASTER.

When you find an official willing to serve the people to the extent of his ability, make a note of the fact. Such men are not numerous, but we have found one in the person of Colonel J. T. Logan, postmaster at Griffin. When he came into office a noticeable change took place in the handling of mail matter. What is Accomplished by VEGETINE.

VEGETINE will renew the blood, give tone to the stomach, restore its liver to its proper action, stimulate the kidneys so as to enable them to perform the functions devolving upon them, carry off the putrid humors, regulate the bowels and restore the whole system to healthy vigor. In a word, it will positively cure every species of blood disease, from a common blotch, pimple or sore to the worst scrofula. It has cured more cases of Cancer, Tumor, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Blotches, Boils, Carbuncles, Ringworm, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Catarrh, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Female Complaints, Kidney Complaints, Gravel, Diabetes, Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Constipation, Piles, Dizziness, Nervousness, Neuralgia, Debility, Sleeplessness, Dullness, Despondency, Impure Blood, Humors of all kinds, Fever Sores, Scrofula in all its forms, Consumption (in advanced stages), Syphilis, Mercurial Disease, Diseases of the Kidneys, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Diseases of the Urinary Organs, Female Weakness, Leucorrhœa, Ulceration of the Womb, Spinal Diseases, Pain in the Back, and all diseases that arise from impure blood, or a disordered system, than any medicine ever before the public. Indeed, it has done more real good, and relieved more suffering, than all other medicines combined. Why suffer pain, when a few bottles of VEGETINE will make you well? Why suffer from sickness, when VEGETINE will restore you to health? Why suffer from any disease, when VEGETINE will cure you? Why suffer from Scrofula, when VEGETINE will drive it from your system? Why suffer from Cancer, when VEGETINE will cure it? Why suffer from Catarrh, when VEGETINE will relieve you? Why suffer from Rheumatism, when VEGETINE will remove it? Why suffer from Kidney Complaint, when VEGETINE will restore you to health? Why suffer from Dyspepsia, when VEGETINE will cure you? Why suffer from Sick Headache, when VEGETINE will relieve you? Why suffer from Constipation, when VEGETINE will cure you? Why suffer from Piles, when VEGETINE will relieve you? Why suffer from Dizziness, when VEGETINE will cure you? Why suffer from Nervousness, when VEGETINE will relieve you? Why suffer from Neuralgia, when VEGETINE will cure you? Why suffer from Debility, when VEGETINE will restore you to health? Why suffer from Sleeplessness, when VEGETINE will relieve you? Why suffer from Dullness, when VEGETINE will cure you? Why suffer from Despondency, when VEGETINE will relieve you? Why suffer from Impure Blood, when VEGETINE will purify it? Why suffer from Humors of all kinds, when VEGETINE will cure you? Why suffer from Fever Sores, when VEGETINE will relieve you? Why suffer from Scrofula in all its forms, when VEGETINE will drive it from your system? Why suffer from Consumption (in advanced stages), when VEGETINE will relieve you? Why suffer from Syphilis, when VEGETINE will cure you? Why suffer from Mercurial Disease, when VEGETINE will relieve you? Why suffer from Diseases of the Kidneys, when VEGETINE will cure you? Why suffer from Liver Complaint, when VEGETINE will relieve you? Why suffer from Dropsy, when VEGETINE will cure you? Why suffer from Diseases of the Urinary Organs, when VEGETINE will relieve you? Why suffer from Female Weakness, when VEGETINE will cure you? Why suffer from Leucorrhœa, when VEGETINE will relieve you? Why suffer from Ulceration of the Womb, when VEGETINE will cure you? Why suffer from Spinal Diseases, when VEGETINE will relieve you? Why suffer from Pain in the Back, when VEGETINE will cure you? Why suffer from any disease, when VEGETINE will relieve you? Why suffer from sickness, when VEGETINE will restore you to health? Why suffer pain, when a few bottles of VEGETINE will make you well?

VEGETINE is entirely vegetable in its composition, and is the only blood purifier and invigorator that can be relied upon. It acts directly upon the blood, and through it upon every part of the system. It is pleasant to take, and can be taken by children with perfect safety. Ladies, it is especially adapted to your delicate constitutions. Gentlemen, it is the only reliable remedy you can use. Clergymen, it is the best friend you can have. Lawyers, it is the best counsel you can employ. Merchants, it is the best medicine you can take to keep your system in order. Mechanics, it is the best medicine you can use when your system needs a thorough purifier. Farmers, it is the best medicine you can use for your families. Everybody, it is the best medicine you can use for any disease, or when you need a blood purifier, tonic or invigorator.

VEGETINE is sold by all druggists. Price $1.00.

—The Macon Telegraph, which took occasion awhile ago to compliment our elegant English, remarked recently that a "delightful dance transpired in Vineville." Wouldn't "perspired" have been a more appropriate word in this connection?

—The Carrollton Times says that Tom Cobb-rrurion is puffing those papers that favor Atlanta for the capital and bulldozing those that do not. If the Times had used any italic we should take it for granted that it took its cue from the Macon Telegraph. At any rate, the Times is mistaken.

—The Greensboro Herald has it on the best authority that the Middle Georgia mineral association of Macon, Georgia, have been offered $30,000 for two forty-acre lots in Haralson county, and refused the offer. Scientific men who have examined the property say it is cheap at $100,000. The editor of the Herald is personally acquainted with some of the stockholders, and he says they are men of known reliability and character; hence there is no sensational humbug about the matter, but it is bona fide property of real value.

—The Buena Vista Argus says that Mr. J. W. Dozier, who died last year in Talbot county, was a model of temperance and sterling piety. He died at the age of 75 years and 6 months.
For fifty years of that time he was a habitual chewer of tobacco, and did not chew more than fifty pounds of tobacco. He farmed over fifty years and never bought but fifty bushels of corn —that was in 1855. He never failed to have sweet potatoes from "one digging to the other." His son now has an "excellent high land wood, which he wore over twenty years. The house which he had at his death he had been wearing [illegible] years, and were then good boots. His wife he had worn for five years, and still [illegible] well.

—Comparing Milledgeville to Atlanta, a correspondent of the Rome Courier says: Now let us see if they are equal in another respect. Atlanta proposes to donate the city hall lot, containing five acres, in the heart of the city, to the state, and place thereon a capitol equal in every respect to the one in Milledgeville. What does Milledgeville propose to do? Do they ever propose to pay the expense of removing the state departments back to Milledgeville, to say nothing of repairing the public buildings so that they will answer the purposes of carrying on the state government? Not one dollar do they propose to give, and not one dollar will they give. And if Atlanta was to give nothing, the two roads would stand on an equal footing. But Atlanta proposes to give the state about three hundred thousand dollars, while Milledgeville proposes to build two hotels to accommodate the legislature.

—Gainesville Eagle: All the mines now being worked are yielding fine profits, and several very rich ones are being prepared for machinery on a large scale. We saw Mr. Louman, of New York, in the city a few days ago, who informed us that his company were having erected a steam engine and one of the new patent crushers and concentrating machines, by which process the ores yield from twice to three times as much as by the ordinary process; and not only cheaper, but will work off fifty tons per day. The company will soon put up one of these mills, with all its accompaniments, at the silver mine, five miles from the city, the developments from which will, in a few years, open a new industry of immense value and extent. They will also commence regular mining for corundum, and the ruby, sapphire, gold, asbestos and the diamond. Mr. Jennings, of the celebrated Glade mine, has lately purchased the Finger mill (fails) tract, and is cutting a canal some six miles, which will give a hydraulic power of over one hundred feet, equal to one thousand hands, in removing the superincumbent earth from three hundred acres of rich placer mining ground, the removal of which will uncover or find the richest veins ever found in any country. He will concentrate the gold sands under the supervision of an expert from the diamond fields of South America and Africa, who will certainly find many precious stones.

—Cuthbert Messenger: Some writer has stated that when the capital was first located at Milledgeville, that town was all public property; and the lands were surveyed into town lots and put up at public outcry and sold at "fabulous prices," because the capital of the state was to be located there, and further says that the removal of the capital from that place is acting in bad faith upon the part of the state in consequence of that purchase. The capitol remained at Milledgeville over [illegible] years after that purchase, and we ask any fair-minded man was not that sufficient recompense for "fabulous prices?" When the capital was removed to Atlanta that city gave to the state the opera house building for ten years free of rent, and when the legislature decided to purchase the building for the state, A. Ian a commuted the ten years rent and donated that amount to the state for the purchase. When Kimball failed, and when it was ascertained that there was a $60,000 mortgage on the building, Atlanta came forward and lifted it for the state. And now when that city proposes to donate to the state five acres in its very heart, worth in actual cash more than the whole town of Milledgeville, and place thereon a building as good as the one in Milledgeville, the friends of the latter place scout this idea one say that Atlanta will not comply. This is mere nonsense; she is bound to comply or the election amounts to nothing, and the people of Atlanta know it; she complied before and she will comply now. Should Milledgeville be selected, a tax will be required to repair the buildings, and the opera house will revert back to the city of Atlanta because the state will then have failed to comply with Atlanta's donation in that Atlanta is selected as the the votes of the people, the the gainer of a new capia dollar expense to the , will still retain the

—Macon Telegraph: Mr. Jack Hall, ownership of the opera house, the buildings at Milledgeville, and besides have the capital at a railroad center and at a city that is the pride of the south.

convicts in the South Carolina penitentiary, but the doors are yawning for cultivation 100 years produces ears of corn eight inches long and ten in circumference.

the town and city of Dallas, died in the asylum for the insane at Austin some days since.

—Gen. Loring, commander of the Egyptian army, is expected to meet with his old regiment, the first Tennessee, at Nashville on the 25th.

—A North Carolina girl pierced her ear in order to get a pair of ear-rings, and got a four and a quarter pound tumor, and the doctor has just taken that away from her.

—Mississippi, North Carolina, Ten nessee and Kentucky have nearly the same number of convicts in their respective penitentiaries—not varying ten from 950 each.

—New Orleans Delta: A body of 34 white farm laborers arrived here two days ago from Wisconsin and Minnesota on their way to a sugar plantation on the Teche, twenty miles from Morgan City.

—Raleigh (N. C.) News: About 100 pupils in the white department, and about 40 in the colored, of the deaf and dumb and the blind institute, have already entered, and several more are expected.

—Montgomery Advertiser: The cotton men are in high dudgeon at the report that the late rains will cut down the quantity to a nominal figure. It is all moonshine that 30,000 bales have been destroyed in Alabama, although it is not denied that much damage has been done.

—Last Tuesday, 125 families from Indiana reached Michigan City and Lamar, Benton county, Miss. The above named towns are on the Mississippi Central railroad, between Grand Junction and Holly Springs.

—Returns from thirty-two parishes, not including New Orleans, show an increase in the assessments over last year of $2,900,000. The estimate of the total assessment for the state is put at $200,000,000. The city has for years been paying two thirds of the entire taxation, legitimate and illegitimate.

—Liberian immigration meetings are fashionable now in many of the southern states, and the Raleigh News takes the occasion to remark: It is probable that the meetings will be held ten years hence just as at present, but it is extremely doubtful whether any one will [illegible] expenses.

—Mescilla (New Mexico) Independent: A number of emigrants passed through town [illegible] Arizona to Texas.
California and Among the party was a burly old back-woodsman, his wife and a dozen tow-headed children, who have moved back and forth over the road from western Texas to California three times within the last thirteen years.

—Memphis Appeal: What we want just now is a revival of the old rebel veil, accompanied by a shot or two.
The south is threatened with an inroad of tramps, who are moving on the principle of migratory birds. Bands of them have already crossed the Potomac and entered Virginia, as the frequent robberies of railroad trains and depots show. These bands must be broken up, disbanded and dispersed.
The whipping post and chain gang must be revived for their benefit.

—Columbus (Miss.) Index: The farmers' movement is still spreading and gathering strength. It may be said that it has already succeeded in securing control of the state legislature, a majority of the candidates for the lower house being known as farmers or identified in one way or another with farming interest. Where it will stop or what it will accomplish before it gets through with its work are questions hard to answer. The leaders of it, however, seem to have declared war on the merchants and lawyers, and we suppose when they have driven those classes from the legislature and put in force a new lien law, they will be satisfied.

—New Orleans Times: No crop that grows from the soil is more certain and generally remunerative than sugar. It never fails in the sense in which cotton and corn fail. A half crop at rare intervals is about the worst the seasons ever do for it. On account of the limited sugar area, there is no danger of over-production. On account of the inevitable decay of sugar production in Cuba, there is no prospect of any permanent decline in prices. It is a fact which intelligent men understand, and which ought to be published abroad, that the present free negroes of the sugar parishes are the best organized, cheapest and most reliable agricultural laborers in the world.

Dr. Tutt's Pills.

Meet the wants of those who need a safe and reliable medicine. The immense demand which has so rapidly followed their introduction is evidence that they do supply this want, and proves them to be ever furnished the American people. The high-est medical authorities concede their superiority over all others, because they possess alterative, tonic, and healing properties contained in no other medicine. Being strongly Anti-Bilious, they expel all humors, correct a vitiated state of the system, and, being purely vegetable, they do not, like other pills, leave the stomach and bowels in a worse condition than they found them, but, on the contrary, impart a healthy tone and vigor before unknown.

OUR WORDS INDORSED

Dr. C. L. MITCHELL, Ft. Meade, Fla., says: "I know the superiority of your pills, and want to see them used instead of the worth-less compounds sold in this country."

Rev. R. L. SIMPSON, Louisville, Ky., says: "Tutt's pills are worth their weight in gold."

Had Sick Headache & Piles 30 Years.

"I am well. Gaining strength and flesh every day." R. S. Austin, Springfield, Mass.

He Defies Chills and Fever.

"With Tutt's pills, we defy chills. Illinois owes you a debt of gratitude." F. R. Ripley, Chicago, Ill.

Sold everywhere. Price 25 cents. Office, 35 Murray Street, New York.

TUTT'S HAIR DYE

Gray hair is changed to a glossy black by a single application of this Dye. It is easily ap-plied, acts like magic, and is as harmless as spring water. Never disappoints. Sold by druggists. Price $1.00. Office, 35 Murray Street, New York.

MURDERERS WILL OUT

JOHNSON AND SHAW BREAK JAIL AND ESCAPE.

A Bold and Successful Dig for Liberty—Two Monsters at Large—A Remarkable Case of Jail Breaking.

One of the most remarkable and skillful instances of jail-breaking ever brought to our attention occurred in this city during Thursday night. The Fulton county jail is doubtless one of the best constructed and most impregnable prisons in the south, and has heretofore been deemed "dead safe" for the keeping of the most dangerous and desperate prisoners. From all parts of Georgia such criminals have been sent here for safe keeping. It was astounding announcement, therefore, when the news spread yesterday that the skill and daring of two men had opened a brand new door through its walls and enabled them to flee away as birds in the air. The report was confirmed, after a visit to the jail revealed the startling fact of the missing convicts.

THE UNCAGED MONSTERS.

The men who made their escape were: Gus Johnson, the notorious murderer from Floyd county, who was here for safe keeping pending the execution of a death sentence, given him for the murder of a negro man some months ago. He is, doubtless, one of the most desperate characters in Georgia, and the narration of his crimes is enough to curdle the blood of the most callous person. He is charged with atrocities that rival the worst deeds of the most infamous of men, among them are the murder of his own father, the killing of a negro baby and the eating of its flesh for fish bait, the killing and eating of the ears of a man, and several other equally horrible murders. It is said his wife was rejoiced when she heard of his capture. When condemned he threatened that he would not be hanged, and that he would return and murder the judge and the twelve jurors who found him guilty.

The other was Shaw, the Baldwin county white murderer, a history of whose crime—a most masterly assassination—has fully appeared in these columns. Shaw was sure for safe keeping also, and had just been refused a new trial.

The two were kept together, at Johnson's request, in the back cell—No. 11 on the upper floor, in the north and eastern corner of the jail. Johnson complained to the jailor that he had his eyes on Shaw, and that he wanted him put in close confinement. Shaw, who seemed quiet and peaceable, was put in with him and for some time they lived on the best of terms.

WHO PLANNED THE JOB.

Just how we may state that Jim Lawshe, the jailor, and one of the best mechanics in the city, was the occupant of cell No. 11 next to that occupied by Johnson and Shaw. Lawshe had been confined in the jail breaking and once got out of jail and carried with him a dog and five puppies that he had been permitted to keep with him.

Lawshe had been in and out of the jail to and from the United States court, in which he was convicted of counterfeiting, and sentenced to a term of seven years in the Albany penitentiary, and it is supposed he was receiving the implements for escaping. He cut a speaking hole through the iron work on the wooden and the inmates were as freely as though they were in the room. Through this orifice food was handed and cigars have been passed.

FINDING THEIR TOOLS.

A few weeks ago a file—quite a small, three was taken from Lawshe. He had it in his sock under the hollow of his foot the same time. A small saw, with its handle, was taken from the cell of Shaw.

This saw seemed to have been made of steel, such as is used for corset stays, and the theory is that the piece was given him by his wife, who visited him some ago. He has been visited by no one else since his wife and by his attorney.

Officers seem to have felt an absolute confidence about the strength of the jail and the safety of their prisoners, and finding no evil or danger apparent, concluded that the cell door need not be locked.

HOW THE ESCAPE WAS MADE.

Under the floor of the cell was a loose piece in the flooring, and over this piece of flooring, and lying upon their sides, but not fastened to it, being about a foot and a half in length and three-eighths of an inch thick, were each one of the iron bars of the door. Under each one of these iron bars was a piece of wood. This loose point in the floor was made by O'Neal, a murderer from Polk county, who came to effect his release and Shaw skillfully removed a square foot of this flooring. They cut about 18 inches in length of one of the bars next to the wall with a saw severed in its inches apart, one of the heavy bars, sawing the bar so nicely that the cut was as smooth as though it had been done by a workman with most approved tools. The hole thus made they had to descend to a close basement.
